General Experience

After graduation from Law Department of Peking University in 1984, I worked and researched in the Supreme Court for more than 10 years, mainly engaged in researching trial practice and general policy, particularly participating the drafting of the Law of Judges of PRC, in consequence of which obtained an overall deep penetration and acquaintance of Chinese Judicial practice. Then I traveled in Europe for 10 years during which period the main places of learning, research and teaching is Paris, France and Galway, Ireland, and got a good appreciation of laws in Common Law System and Civil Law System. Now I am mainly interested in legal academic research, legal education and academic organization activities, particularly research and academic exchange of Chinese and foreign law and law education. From 2004 I came to Law Department of Harbin Institute of Technology, engaged in the teaching and research in international law (particularly European Law, International Judicial System and Space Law) and comparative law. I became the first Dean of Law School of H.I.T since 2005.
