Assistant Professor at

"I studied in MSc finance program at University of Macau, and then pursued my PhD degree at the City University of Hong Kong. Now I am an Assistant Professor at Xiamen University.

Pursuing a graduate degree at MSc in Finance was one of the best decisions I have ever made. As an internationally competitive postgraduate program, MSc in Finance not only offers fascinating postgraduate courses, but also provides a favorable environment and comprehensive training for students who are interested in research. During my postgraduate study here, my supervisor Professor Adrian Lei inspired me to embark on research career, and with his patient guidance and encouragement, I learnt important research methodologies and critical thinking that still benefit me a lot today in conducting research work.

The professors at MSc in Finance were very approachable – I can't forget Professor Susan Ren, Professor Lewis Tam and a lot of professors who were always ready to help with whatever question I had. Thanks to the excellent and helpful faculty, the amazing learning facilities and the plenty of extra-curricular activities at MSc in Finance, I had an enjoyable postgraduate study journey full of knowledge and fun. I will always be grateful to MSc in Finance for my education and a wonderful experience."

In addition to the advanced professional knowledge and practical skills, the course design and content of MSc in Finance also help students develop analytical skills and upgrade their critical thinking levels. These skills are very important for my daily management and perform analysis for clients. The MSc in Finance course provides an excellent platform for students to get to know outstanding talents from different regions and industries and to expand their international vision. These will be valuable life experiences."
