Timothy TEO (Ph.D.) is Distinguished Professor of Education, and Associate Dean at the University of Macau. He is also Honorary Professor at the University of Auckland. Prior to joining the University of Macau, Timothy has worked at the National Institute of Education (Nanyang Technological University, Singapore) and the University of Auckland (New Zealand). Timothy’s research interests are multidisciplinary, and include both substantive and methodological areas. These are Educational Psychology (Self-efficacy-teachers and students; Beliefs about teaching and learning; Meta-cognition), ICT in Education (Technology acceptance and adoption; e-learning), Music Education (Psychological processes of music teaching and learning), and Quantitative Methods (Psychometrics; Instrument development and validation; cross-cultural measurement; issues in survey development and administration; structural equation modeling; multilevel modeling; latent growth modeling; Item Response Theory modeling). Timothy is chief editor of two international journals, The Asia-Pacific Education Researcher (TAPER) and International Journal of Quantitative Research in Education (IJQRE) and a member in over 10 journal editorial boards. As an author, he has edited three books and written many book chapters and conference papers. To date, Timothy has published 145 peer-reviewed journal articles, with over 100 in highly-ranked SSCI journals including Computers and Education, Educational and Psychological Measurement, Interactive Learning Environment, Journal of computer Assisted Learning, British Journal of Educational Technology, Journal of Research in Music Education, Computers in Human Behavior, The Internet and Higher Education, Asia-Pacific Journal of Teacher Education, and Journal of Psychoeducational Assessment.

Date: 06 December 2017
Time: 14:00-17:00
Venue: E33-2036
Registration: https://goo.gl/uxzX66
Enquiries: FED_Event@umac.mo
Ext. 8822 4120

SPEAKER

Timothy TEO (Ph.D.) is Distinguished Professor of Education, and Associate Dean at the University of Macau. He is also Honorary Professor at the University of Auckland. Prior to joining the University of Macau, Timothy has worked at the National Institute of Education (Nanyang Technological University, Singapore) and the University of Auckland (New Zealand). Timothy’s research interests are multidisciplinary, and include both substantive and methodological areas. These are Educational Psychology (Self-efficacy-teachers and students; Beliefs about teaching and learning; Meta-cognition), ICT in Education (Technology acceptance and adoption; e-learning), Music Education (Psychological processes of music teaching and learning), and Quantitative Methods (Psychometrics; Instrument development and validation; cross-cultural measurement; issues in survey development and administration; structural equation modeling; multilevel modeling; latent growth modeling; Item Response Theory modeling). Timothy is chief editor of two international journals, The Asia-Pacific Education Researcher (TAPER) and International Journal of Quantitative Research in Education (IJQRE) and a member in over 10 journal editorial boards. As an author, he has edited three books and written many book chapters and conference papers. To date, Timothy has published 145 peer-reviewed journal articles, with over 100 in highly-ranked SSCI journals including Computers and Education, Educational and Psychological Measurement, Interactive Learning Environment, Journal of computer Assisted Learning, British Journal of Educational Technology, Journal of Research in Music Education, Computers in Human Behavior, The Internet and Higher Education, Asia-Pacific Journal of Teacher Education, and Journal of Psychoeducational Assessment.