

Faculty of Business Administration

SEMINAR SERIES No. 8/1011 Information Systems

“Human Resource Information Systems and E-Business in China”

Prof. Jinwen Wu

Associate Professor

Department of E-commerce

School of Economics and Management

South China Normal University, Guangzhou, China

Abstract

Human Resource Information Systems (HRIS) and E-Business (EB) become more and more popular in China. In this talk, I will introduce such information systems and the modules used in human resource management, including payroll module, work time module, benefits administration module, HR management module, online recruiting and training module etc. As a case study, I will also explain how my own company is effectively running E-Business and how to apply those modules in the human resource department.

Date: February 23, 2011 (Wednesday)

Time: 10:30 – 12:00

Venue: Library Auditorium II

ALL ARE WELCOME!

A Short Biography of Prof. Jinwen Wu

Prof. Jinwen Wu is currently an Associate Professor in the Department of E-Commerce, Institute of Economics and Management, South China Normal University (SCNU). Prof. Wu got her Ph.D degree in Economics from SCNU in 2008. Her current research interests are "Organizational Culture Capital" based on economic analysis, "Competency Models" based on measurement statistical analysis, "Human Resource Information Management" based on information management theory. She has published more than 30 papers in China and international journals. On the other hand, Prof. Wu has been running her own business related to information systems since 1990s.