

University of Macau
Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Department of Psychology

Seminar on

“Nasty, Brutish, and Short: Working with Delinquent British Youth”

By

Professor Vincent Egan
Senior Lecturer and Course Director of the Post-Graduate Forensic Psychology Programme at Glasgow Caledonian University, U.K.

Wednesday, 13 April 2011
2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.
JG07 (Silver Jubilee Building)

Abstract: The seminar focuses on working with teenagers who have complications with the law. Clinical perspectives of working with at-risk youths and developing a social and policy awareness specific to this population. Clinical cases reflecting current UK model specific local but universal social problems such as drunken and drug-related violence. Issues of a generous welfare model and policing system will be discussed. The seminar comprises of lecture and small group discussions for interested parties working with at-risk youths.

ALL ARE WELCOME