Defining and Redefining Student Success: Building Assessment Around the Process of Student Learning

2015 CTLE Spring Workshop

Wednesday, 4 February 2015 12:15 – 1:45 pm

Refreshments at 12:00 noon

Venue: BOC Centennial Building (E3)

Third Floor, 3046

Ms. Miranda Ma

University of Macau

The presenter argues that traditional view of equating high scores with success can be a disservice to students because it undermines the value of student's process of internalizing knowledge. This workshop seeks to uncover ways to access the seemingly unmeasurable facet of student learning - the internalization process.
